Instructions for Authors and Contributors

Do you want to make an impact and a contribution to aquatic veterinary medicine? Consider becoming a regular or periodic contributor, or an Associate Editor to help solicit, edit and format contributions for select columns in The Aquatic Veterinarian (experience is not necessary). If so, contact or submit your articles to the Editor (TAVeditor@wavma.org).

While any information directly relevant to aquatic veterinary medicine might be published, we particularly invite contributions for (and Associate Editors to assist with) the following regular columns:

- Clinical Cases – Clear description of a distinct clinical case or situation and how those were resolved (1-3 pages)
- Scientific Papers - Include title, author names and affiliations, abstract and keywords, followed by Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion and References (4-8 pages excluding references. Please discuss longer submissions with the editor).
- Book Reviews – Brief review of a published book, including an overview and critique of the contents and where to obtain the book (½ to1 page).
- News & Views – Brief synopsis or information about news published elsewhere (½ to1 page).
- Publication Abstracts – Abstracts of published veterinary and scientific journals with full citation/reference (authors, date, title, and journal volume and page numbers – ½-1 page).
- Legislative & Regulatory Issues – Synopsis or description of emerging legislation or regulations with information on how to access further detailed information (½ to1 page).
- Externships, Internships & Residencies – Description with specific contact information for veterinary student externships and post-graduate internships or residencies at private practices, institutions, universities or organizations (½ to 1 page).
- Meetings & CEPD Opportunities – Description or synopsis of upcoming aquatic veterinary or (veterinarian-relevant) non-veterinary in-person or on-line educational meetings noting the meeting title, dates, location, and contact person or website (½ to1 page).
- Job Postings – Description of available full or part-time employment for aquatic veterinarians (½ to1 page).
- Pictures & Photographs – Contributors of original photographs illustrating aquatic veterinary practices or procedures will be credited.

Submission Deadlines:

Issue 1 – February 15 (published in March)
Issue 2 – May 15 (published in June)
Issue 3 – August 15 (published in September)
Issue 4 – November 15 (published in December)

Please Note: Copyrighted information without the permission of the original copyright owner will not be published in The Aquatic Veterinarian; however, a synopsis, partial extract, or your synopsis of information published elsewhere (with appropriate credit to the source) is acceptable.*
